

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

For further information contact:

Sara Crate, Whole Health, 503-274-0911
scrate@wholehealthnet.com

Whole Health Launches New Web Site

March 23, 2005 -- Whole Health Management of Cleveland, OH announces the launch of a new corporate Web site, www.wholehealthnet.com. Whole Health is a provider of on-site health care and wellness centers to leading corporations and organizations.

The site features profiles of the company, its management team and board, key client success stories and service offerings. It also contains current job openings and an on-line resume submission tool.

“We help large corporations lower their health care costs while increasing employee productivity.” Jim Hummer, CEO and president of Whole Health, said. “We wanted our Web site to clearly reflect how we are able to do this for 200,000+ employees across the county.”

The company also has several opportunities for health care personnel at their health care clinics and wellness centers. That is why job listings and on-line resume submission are key components of the site.

About Whole Health Management

Whole Health has been in business since 1981, providing urgent, preventive and primary care, integrated occupational health, physical therapy, employee assistance counseling, wellness and fitness services.

Whole Health has more than 500 associates working at onsite health and fitness centers for 28 client organizations at 64 sites. These on-site health and fitness centers, located in fourteen states, the District of Columbia, and Guam, serve an estimated 200,000 employees, and in some cases, their spouses and dependents. Whole Health’s on-site health and fitness centers are designed to optimize employee health and productivity. For more information please visit wholehealthnet.com or contact Sara Crate, vice president, business development, at 503.274.0911 or scrate@wholehealthnet.com.